

6516207036.txt

This is absolutely ridiculous. I see absolutely no problem with satellite radio companies providing local weather and traffic information; heck, the weather Channel provides the same local weather on Television, so radio is just another distribution medium.

If you are going to place restrictions on satellite radio for providing this information, then shouldn't you do the same to television??